REPORT EXPLAINED BY PAYNE

Champ Clark and Underwood, of Alabama, Attack Work of Tariff Conferces - Longworth Rushes to Defense of Taft-Mann, of Illinois, Enters a Protest.

The conference report on the tariff was taken up shortly after the House convened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Payne, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and manager on the part of the House, who had charge of the bill, asked unanimous consent to dispense with the reading.

Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, one of the Republicans who opposed the free raw material programme suggested by Mr. Taft, obstructed the proceedings for several hours by insisting upon the and extortion of the many, his glory will reading of the report. DEMOCRATIC TABLE ON TARIFF.

The House Democrats yesterday presented a table prepared by experts, comparing the bill as agreed to in conference committee with the Dingley act.

This table shows that the Republican party has revised the tariff upward 1.71 per cent.

In addition there are about 120 new articles made subject to tax. In the subjoined table the first column contains the Dingley revenues for 1907 by schedules, and the second is estimated by applying the rates of the conference bill to the imports of that year. The duties of the conference bill will be largely increased by the changed classifications of the cotton and silk schedules and the many new items of taxation introduced.
